FROM THE DEAN'S DESK -
Florida Tech Welcomes the Link Foundation Board

The Link Foundation Board of Trustees will hold its annual meeting at Florida Tech on Friday, February 22. The Foundation, established in 1953 by Edwin A. (1904-1981) and Marion C. (1907-1995) Link, has awarded grants totaling nearly $10 million to universities, colleges and other non-profit organizations. Florida Tech and the Evans Library have been recipients of the generosity of the Foundation for many years.

Mr. Link was best known for his invention of the first successful flight simulator in 1929. Florida Tech trustee Marilyn C. Link, Ed Link’s sister, and Donna F. Wilt, Florida Tech Associate Professor of Aeronautics, are Special Advisors to the Foundation.

DISPLAY SPOTLIGHTS FLORIDA TECH HISTORY

Brand-new to the Evans Library is a three-case lobby display celebrating Florida Tech’s 50th anniversary. Currently focusing on past and present campus presidents, this phase of an on-going exhibit features biographical sketches and published works, Brevard Engineering College memorabilia, excerpts from Dr. Gordon Patterson’s history of the university, and lots of nostalgic looks back at campus life of the 60s and 70s.
