FROM THE DEAN’S DESK:
TABLA CONCERT, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 22
RECEPTION 6:15 & LECTURE 7:00

Dr. Jamie Younkin and the Library cordially invite you to a Tabla recital and lecture in the Evans Library on the evening of September 22. The Tabla, consisting of a pair of hand drums, is used in the playing of Indian classical music. The fingers, palms, and heel of the hand are used to produce a variety of sounds, each with its own name. Dr. Lowell Lybarger, Music and Multimedia Librarian at Arkansas Tech University, will perform. The concert is free to Florida Tech students and subscribers to the Concert Series; admission costs $15 at the door for faculty, staff, and the community.

EVANS LIBRARY CAFÉ — PROGRESS CONTINUES!

LIBRARY DISPLAYS: “STUDY ABROAD EXPERIENCE” - FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 9

In conjunction with the Library’s current first-floor display, the Nathan M. Bisk College of Business Research Showcase, Dean Annie Becker and a panel of faculty and students will present a forum, “Study Abroad Experience: Educational, Cultural, Environmental and Personal Enrichment.” All are invited to enjoy this 3:00 p.m. discussion that will highlight the benefits of the College’s recent short-term course in Spain and then to stay for a 4:00 reception, mingling with program participants and learn even more about other study-abroad opportunities. Those interested in attending the session remotely can pre-register at http://lib.fit.edu/?p=studyabroad.

DAVID MACAULAY DISPLAY

Just as Florida Tech’s Foosaner Art Museum (1463 Highland Avenue) is featuring an exhibit of David Macaulay’s art, the Evans Library is featuring a display of many of his art-rich books. The Museum exhibit, called Building Books: The Art of David Macaulay, is organized by the Norman Rockwell Museum in Stockbridge, MA and will continue through the 9th of October. The Library’s display features Macaulay favorites of Dr. Celine Lang, Dean of Libraries, and popular titles from the Evans Library collections.
